Cultivate Curiosity

Studies show that kids who are motivated to learn by their own curiosity and interests stay motivated longer and achieve more in school. To nurture this kind of motivation:

- ⇒ Help your child discover what interests him. Before he starts a project, have him think about what he wants to learn from it.
- ⇒ Ask him to share what he's learning with you. Show enthusiasm: "What a cool thing to know! Tell me some more!"

Tips From Title I

Here are some easy ways that parents or guardians can help children become strong, successful readers:

- ◆ Set a routine. ...
- ◆ Read at home. ...
- ◆ Make a special reading spot. ...
- ◆ Be a great reading partner! ...
- ◆ Surround your child with books. ...
- ◆ Bring books everywhere. ...
- ◆ Set a good example; be caught in the act!

"Children won't always listen to what you say, but they will

Read to Succeed for K-6

I hope everyone will take a little time to relax and unwind during Winter Break. Reading a good book is always a great way to relax. This would be a great time to get a jump start on the Read to Succeed reading program. This year all reading must be done at home and logged online by parents. The deadline is March 1st, 2020.

Check springbluffpirates.com often for schedule updates!!

Open Library will start back on Monday, January 6th.

Fine Arts will not meet until Thursday January 16th, 2020
